The image shows a section of a brick building facade. At the top is a narrow, double-paned window with a white frame. Below this window is a decorative horizontal sign. The sign has a yellow background with a floral and vine pattern in red, green, and black. In the center of the sign, the words "CONCORDE" and "FAMILLE" are written in a stylized, purple, outlined font, one above the other. Below the sign is another double-paned window, also with a white frame, but with frosted glass. The brickwork is made of dark red bricks with light-colored mortar. The entire scene is set against a dark, solid background.
